The Fair-est of Them All: Ninth annual Hancock County Fair a huge success

Local officials said this week that the ninth annual Hancock County Fair -- which ended this past Saturday -- drew thousands of fair-goers and participants, and was the most successful fest yet. The event included carnival rides, rodeo activities, exotic animal races, food and crafts vendors and live music.

The ninth annual Hancock County Fair ended on Saturday, but local officials are still singing its praises.

“It was fabulous,” Hancock Tourism Bureau Executive Director Myrna Green said Monday. “It was the best attendance ever. It was wonderful — every venue was full, the amusement park, the rodeo, the stage area, the vendor booths. ... I would say it’s easily in the top five festivals in the state.”

As always, this year’s fair included livestock exhibits, carnival rides, food and drinks from local restaurants, a 4-D barrel run, exhibition horse races, exotic animals such as camels and ostriches and a high school rodeo, but this year’s live music also focused on songwriters and entertainers with Hancock County roots.

“We had a lot of local entertainers that had ties to Hancock County, and I think that was very successful,” Green said. “People enjoyed it.”

The performance lineup included David Pixley and Failure to Appear on Thursday; Eric Sharp, Barstool Cowboys and

The Mustache Band on Friday; and Keith Lee, Dave Fenley and Lee Roy Parnell on Saturday.

Green said special thanks must be paid to the members of the Hancock County Community Committee, who worked diligently to make the fair happen.

“These folks work all year long to make sure the county fair flows so smoothly,” she said.

Not only is the event a tremendous example of an old-fashioned county fair, she said, “it also showcases every aspect of our county -- the artists, the children who work so hard to raise these animals, county facilities, such as our fabulous arena, everything.”

And the success of this year’s event will help to make next year’s even bigger and better, Green said. Proceeds will be used to help fund next year’s fair and to make improvements to the Hancock County Fairgrounds.

The Fairgrounds campground is in the midst of a major expansion, Green said.

This year, she said, “The campground was

Time in a bottle: Unearthing the past at North Bay Elementary

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

North Bay Elementary Assistant Principal Brad Ladner joked to students last Friday that they were “digging up the ancient past” as he and some of his classmates from that era dug up a time capsule they buried in 1997 as students in Melanie Whitaker’s gifted class, back when the school was located at Second Street in downtown Bay St. Louis.

Hancock County Board of Supervisors President Scotty Adam did the shoveling honors Friday, along with his son Brennen, since he helped bury the time capsule at the original site in 1997 when Brennen was in Mrs. Whitaker’s class; and helped relocate it to the new school site after the old school was sold in 2013.

Several students from that class showed up Friday for the time capsule’s opening.

“They probably don’t even remember what they buried because it was 25 years ago,” North Bay’s current Principal Crystal Anderson said Friday.

Whitaker was also present Friday for the capsule’s opening.

“We’re so grateful for the things she taught us,” Ladner said, “and the impressions she left on us.”

Ladner said that at the time the capsule was first buried, “we just put stuff that we thought at the time was important.” Whitaker said Friday’s ceremony was “great. I’m really, really proud of them, and I’m glad they remembered to do it.” Whitaker said the ’97 class was studying a chapter on “the future” when they decided to bury the time capsule. The class placed items to represent the year in three pickle jar containers. Ladner contributed football, basketball and baseball trading cards. Each student also signed a letter addressed to students who will be in school in 2022, the year that the class planned to excavate the capsule. Other items unearthed included an old watch, a sticker commemorating the Green Bay Packers’ Super Bowl win, a TV Guide, pencils and a newspaper from the era. Anderson said the school will be creating a new time capsule project for North Bay’s current students.

Hancock Jr. Beta Club Places in National Competition

SEA COAST ECHO

National Beta members from Hancock Middle School worked hard to prepare their entries for National Beta Convention. In late June/early July, they were able to celebrate that hard work when they were announced as winners of the following competitions: 8th Place Math: Brooklyn Guymon and 9th Place Team Competition Meeting of the Minds

The National Convention, held in Nashville, TN, provided all students the opportunity to compete at their comfort level, virtually or on-site. Over 5,000 Elementary Beta (grades 4-5), 8,000 Junior Beta (grades 6-8) and 7,900 Senior Beta (grades 9-12) students were able to represent their schools both virtually and in-person this summer.

With more than 500,000 active members and 8,750 clubs nationally and internationally, National Beta has become the nation's largest independent, non-profit, educational youth organization. National Beta promotes the ideals of academic achievement, character, service and leadership among elementary and secondary school students. National Junior Beta includes grades

A life cut short unexpectedly became the spark for making a difference in the community through the Tanner Adam Memorial Fund. The Hancock Campus of Pearl River Community College is one of the beneficiaries including a recent donation of equipment and supplies for the welding program.

Tanner was still in high school when a car accident ended his life on September 13, 2008. After navigating through a very dark time, his family and friends took action to memorialize his life while helping members of the community improve their lives.

“We were very fortunate to receive support from friends, family, and members of the community in our time of need,” said Trevor Adam, twin brother of Tanner, and PRCC graduate. “We wanted to make a difference in remembrance of Tanner and have a positive effect in the community.”

Scholarships from the fund have been given to a graduating high school student in Hancock County interested in metalworking and/or welding, areas that

Tanner was exploring. However, the donations of equipment and supplies have a farther-reaching footprint as those are used by many students and community members coming for training.

“The $3,000 scholarship a student receives can cover most expenses to attend for two semesters so they attend PRCC without a burden,” said Dr. Raymunda

Barnes, Vice President of Hancock Campus. “When they supply equipment, it’s not only used for our students doing credit hours but also workforce students coming here Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights to better themselves and get out of the job that they’re in to become a welder.”

Welders can earn an average of $40,000 with more experienced welders earning closer to $50,000 in south Mississippi. PRCC offers instruction through Workforce Training as well as Career Certificate, Technical Certificate, and Associate of Applied Science options.

TANNER ADAMS MEMORIAL FUND

From field trials to softball tournaments and recently a trail ride, the nonprofit organization has sought to find fun ways to raise the funds needed to continue making a difference in the lives of others. Since the start of the fund, just over $87,000 has been raised with just over half of that amount going towards equipment for programs and the remainder covering scholarships for deserving students.

Laura Adam, Tanner’s mother, is one of the officers for the fund and works closely with high school votech instructors in metal and welding trades to identify students for the scholarships. Instead of looking at grades, the board looks at both need and character. Other officers include John Albert Evans, Lynn Martin, and Linne Searles.

“A kid that would not have had a chance in this world, that scholarship gives them the chance,” said Searles.

Future fundraising plans include making the trail ride an annual event and launching a golf tournament. Individuals and businesses can also support the fund through direct donations mailed to Tanner Adam Memorial Fund, 5091 Crescent Ridge Dr. Kiln, MS 39556.

Laura Adam said, “Without everyone’s support, this would not be possible.”

The expansion will not only enlarge the area, Green said, but also make it state-of the art.
“It will almost compare to the Neshoba County Fair site,” she said.

Carnival games were another huge draw at the Hancock County Fair. Here, several people line up to try their hand at a ball toss game to win a goldfish.

At the balloon dart carnival game, children were allowed to keep throwing darts until they won a prize.

The Paratrooper ride drew plenty of riders on Saturday night during the last night of the ninth annual Hancock County Fair. Officials said this year's fair was the biggest yet, drawing thousands of people to enjoy the carnival rides and games, rodeo events, animal exhibits, arts & crafts booths and live music by entertainers with Hancock County-ties.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

The signs were there

The serial killer Jeffrey Dahmer has probably received more than enough attention since his arrest in 1991 brought to light his numerous and heinous crimes.

When I heard that Ryan Murphy — the genius that brought us “Nip/Tuck” and “American Horror Story” — was releasing a new show called “Dahmer: Monster: The Jeffrey Dahmer Story,” I knew I had to check it out.

I’m about halfway through it and I like it. So far, the show goes into some details about Jeffrey’s childhood.

I’m always checking the facts of the story against the show.

And again, I always wonder, how was this man able to get away with his crimes for so long?

His father, Lionel Dahmer, who is still alive, wrote a book about being the father of a serial killer, a reflection on what could have caused his son to commit these crimes.

I haven’t read the book, but did read some excerpts from it. He apparently alluded that the prescription drugs Jeffrey’s mother was on while pregnant with Jeffrey could have affected his brain.

He also blames himself for not paying enough attention to Jeffrey emotionally.

Throughout several of Jeffrey’s formative years, his mother suffered from depression and attempted suicide and his father was barely around.

But, lots of people have bad childhoods and don’t become serial killers.

However, the thoughts that he would one day act on began early on. Maybe, if his parents had sought some sort of treatment for him, his life might have turned out differently. And, of course, maybe not.

But, what always makes me mad, is that this guy was convicted of several related crimes before his final arrest in 1991 when officers discovered a man who had escaped Jeffrey’s clutches.

In 1981, he was arrested for drunk and disorderly conduct. And by that time, he had already murdered an 18-year-old hitchhiker in 1978.

In 1982, he was arrested for indecently exposing himself at the Wisconsin State Fair. He was convicted and fined $50.

Hancock History: The Book
Woman of Turtle Skin Creek

Louise Crawford (1880-1965) was the founder of the Hancock County Library System. Louise, a native of Vernon, Indiana, moved to Bay St. Louis in 1912 and lived with her father and brother on Citizen Street. She worked for the L & N Railroad and later the American Red Cross. During the Depression Louise was inspired by the Works Projects Administration (WPA) to establish a library system in sixteen towns in the county. She was known around the county as “Miss Weesie” and was perhaps the most important community booster during that time frame.

Under the auspices of the WPA, Miss Weesie accepted Leo Seal’s offer to establish the main library in two rooms on the second floor of the Hancock Bank in Bay St. Louis, rent free. This newly established enterprise was called the Bay St. Louis City-County Library, which held 261 books with 100 borrowers. She was a fundraiser and sponsored several programs such as public readings, story hours, and book showers. Many letters of solicitation were written to prospective donors all over the nation, and consequently, gifts, donations, and grants were acquired. Even the WPA was persuaded to contribute 5,000 books in 1937.

Miss Weesie designated 16 small communities to receive branch libraries: Waveland, Pearlinton, Santa Rosa, Logtown, Sellers, Kiln, Gainesville, Catahoula, Ansley, Clermont Harbor, Leetown, Edwardsville, Necaie Crossing, Dedeaux, Hoda Town and Lakeshore. This librarian drove her own car - a veritable bookmobile - over the primitive gravel, county roads once a month to service each branch library for years. This act endeared her to the many farmers and their families during the Depression. This story is similar to the heroine in one of the best-selling books of 2019, “The Book Woman of Troublesome Creek.” Like the main character Cussy Mary in that book, who traveled by horseback for the WPA in eastern Kentucky during the Depression, our heroine, Louise, surely crossed Turtle Skin Creek in

Conservation Corner: A Brief History of a Few of Mississippi’s Hunting Clubs

As hard as it is to imagine, hunting clubs were not only born out of need to hunt food, but also out of a desire to escape the fast pace and pressures of growing cities. Citizens looking for peaceful retreats took up camping, bird watching, fishing, and other outdoor activities to avoid the hustle and bustle of everyday life.

Mississippi became the twentieth state admitted to the Union on December 10, 1817. By 1860, it was the nation’s top cotton producing state, and in 1875, Mississippi welcomed its first hunting club—the Gaillard Sporting Club. Several clubs would soon follow and the tales of how they were founded are sometimes legendary and unconfirmed. Nevertheless, the traditions started in these clubs have had a lasting impact on the state of Mississippi. Here is a brief history of a few of the oldest.

Gaillard Sporting Club (ca 1875) - While there is little known about the Gaillard Sporting Club, we do know it was formed in 1875 in the Homochitto River Valley of Adam and Wilkinson counties. To my knowledge, it is inactive today.

Beaver Dam and Ducking Club (ca 1883) - Established in 1883, Beaver Dam and Ducking Club is not only one of the oldest hunting clubs, it is also nationally known thanks to the writings of Nash Buckingham. As a sportswriter, he would write of his adventures at Beaver Dam in his books and magazine articles. This fueled interest in the club and led to its legendary status among duck hunters. Beaver Dam is still one of the most sought-after destinations for duck hunting.

Swan Lake Hunting Club (ca 1893) - In 1893, a group of sporting gentlemen from the Delta formed the Swan Lake Hunting Club. Located on the banks of Swan Lake in the southern part of Washington County, the club adopted as its purpose “to afford opportunity to its members for healthful recreation and relaxation from business.”

Although not as widely known, Swan Lake’s membership boasted of many powerful and influential men, including U.S. Senator Leroy Percy (of whom the state park is named for), H.L. Foote (father of Shelby Foote), and Jimmy Robertshaw, one of the state’s most brilliant attorneys and member of the Mississippi Legislature.

Ozark Hunting and Fishing Club (ca 1901) - Organized in 1901, the Ozark Hunting and Fishing Club is located 3 miles below the mouth of the Arkansas River on the Arkansas side due to a change in the river channel years ago. However, Ozark Island is a part of Bolivar County, Mississippi.

There are many more clubs throughout our great state that have been around for several decades. Tansy Island Hunting Club, Nettleton Fox Hunting and Fish Association, Merigold Hunting Club, Ten Point

In 1986, he was arrested for performing a lewd act in front of two boys. He was sentenced to one year of probation and counseling.
In 1988, he was charged with second-degree sexual assault and enticing a child for immoral purposes after drugging and luring a 13-year-old child back to his apartment. For this, he spent a week in jail.
Not to mention his neighbor, Glenda Cleveland, who is also portrayed in the television, made several calls to law enforcement about her suspicions.
She even witnessed a naked and bleeding teenaged boy running away from Jeffrey and called the police. No action was taken. That 14-year-old boy was later murdered.
Honestly, what does it take? I mean I guess if ole Jeffrey had some marijuana on his person when he committed the crimes he was first convicted of, then they probably would have locked him up and thrown away the key. Because, marijuana is sooo much more scarier than child molestation, drugging teenagers, and exposing yourself to several people at a county fair. (Heavy with the sarcasm here).
There’s a quote from the serial killer Ed Kemper that has always stuck with me.

He was 15 years old in 1964 when he killed his grandparents because he “just wanted to see what it felt like to kill Grandma.” He said he killed his grandfather because he didn’t want him to know his wife had been murdered.
He was sent to Atascadero State Hospital, a maximum-security facility for mentally ill convicts.
In 1969, yes, a mere five years later, he was released.
In 1973, he was convicted on eight counts of first-degree murder.
Jeffrey killed 17 men and boys. The signs were there. There’s no denying that. Oh, and Jeffrey and Ed aren’t the only ones. I watch probably too much true-crime and WAY too many times, the killers had previous runs-in with law enforcement.
Why does it get this far? I know that there are laws to be followed, blah, blah.
But, I mean, to me, someone who killed his grandma because he wanted to know how it felt, probably will never be able to function in society without acting on those urges, as Ed went on to prove.
I mean, tons and tons of money is funneled into prisons and law enforcement all the time. Yet, crimes still escalate. And what’s funny is that people still believe money is the answer to that.
So what is there to be done?
I mean, for one thing, I believe that Jeffrey should have gotten harsher sentences for his earlier sexual crimes. He was a KNOWN predator just allowed to walk freely on the streets.

Secondly, maybe pay attention and listen to the people that are reporting these concerns like Jeffrey’s neighbor did.
In the Dahmer show, the writer put on screen the transcript from an actual call that Glenda made to the police after reporting the suspicious underage boy with Jeffrey. Maybe that young boy would have survived had the officers investigated a little bit more. Big kudos to the officers that took the other young man’s — the one who escaped — story seriously. It finally brought an end to the carnage.
One of the reasons many psychologists study serial killer patterns is to identify the warning signs before there’s a trail of bodies.
No, I don’t expect people to be clairvoyant or perfect, but in several cases, when the signs are there, I think they should be addressed more seriously.
There will always be people who have murderous and sexually-deviant thoughts, there are going to be people born with mental illnesses that might attribute to bringing harm to others, etc. etc., but maybe society should focus more on foresight rather than hindsight.

Louise Crawford had a dream that one day her library would have a building of its own, a home. Today, thanks to the leadership of county officials and Louise Crawford, the Hancock County Library System now has five branches:

Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Kiln, Pearlinton, and Diamondhead. In 2016, total revenue for the system was $1,786,285. Their holdings include over 99,000 print materials (books), 145 computers, periodical subscriptions, and large collections of CD books and DVD movies. The mission of the Hancock County Library System is to inspire lifelong learning, promote the joy of reading, and strengthen our communities by providing open access to cultural, intellectual, technological, and informational resources.

JEFFERY ACKER

“We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and present with the Lord.” 2 Corinthians 5:8

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of our brother, uncle, and friend. Jeffery was born to the late Floyd W. Acker Sr. and the late Mary Catherine Acker on December 31, 1953 in Gainesville, MS. He transitioned from his earthly home on Tuesday, September 13, 2022 (est), at the age of 68.

Jeffery accepted Christ at an early age and joined the New Hope Baptist Church in Pearlington, MS where he remained a member until his transition. He attended school at Charles B. Murphy Elementary, Valena C. Jones, and graduated from Hancock North Central in 1972, in Kiln MS. He was employed for over 40 years at Coast Episcopal Private School in Long Beach, MS. He was very dedicated, dependable, and loved his job.

He was blessed with a large and loving family. He was kind and softly spoken. He spent his time working, relaxing with family, painting, fishing, hunting, shooting pool and taking long walks. He will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

He was preceded in death by both parents: Mary Catherine Acker and Floyd W. Acker Sr; two sisters, Beverly Elaine Acker and Josephine Acker; three brothers, Floyd W. Acker Jr, Mack Robert Acker, and Emmett Douglas Acker; two nephews, Willie Acker and Shannon Acker.

Jeffery is survived by three special nieces/goddaughters whom he treated like daughters, Tamika Laurent, Alicia Mckay, and Janita Mitchell; one brother, Frank Edward Acker; six sisters, Marvie Bannister, June Jarvis, Evelyn Murray, Adell Peters, Annell Murry & Cynthia Acker; one special great-niece O’Niesha Laurent; and a host of nieces, nephews, relatives, and friends have fond memories to share.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, September 23, 2022, at 11:00 a.m. at the New Hope Baptist Church in Pearlington, MS. Rev. Donald Toussaint will be officiating. Entrusted Brown’s Funeral Home of Picayune, MS.

MARGARET W. “PEGGY” MACANIFF

Margaret W. “Peggy” MacAniff, 76, of Diamondhead, MS passed away Wednesday, August 31, 2022.

Peggy spent her early years in Virginia before moving to Pennsylvania. She and her husband fell in love with Bay St. Louis and lived in the Bay for many years.

Peggy never shied away from a task. She could do anything that she set her mind to. She loved gardening and reading. One of her favorite quotes was “If you have a garden and a library, you have everything you need.” – Cicero.

Peggy was known for her intelligence and quick wit. She loved a lively conversation.

She is survived by her husband, James MacAniff; son, James MacAniff, Jr.; and daughter, Pamela MacAniff Cooley.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date. The immediate family will have a private interment.

In lieu of flowers: Ensure that your community has a garden and that your children have access to books.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home is honored to serve the MacAniff Family.

LULA SHANEYFELT

Lula Shaneyfelt (95) – Today our heavenly father granted our beloved mother Lula Shaneyfelt her wings, and welcomed her home.

She was born to Jesse and Clara Jones in Boyle, MS on February 1, 1927. Lula, a native of Mississippi, grew up in the Delta before finally settling on the Gulf Coast for the remainder of her life.

She proudly raised seven beautiful children; five sons and two daughters. Her children Billy, Bobby and Buddy Boswell along with Donna, Clarice, Calvin and Ronald Shaneyfelt’s families constitute sixty-one grand, great, and great-great grandchildren. Through love, compassion and devotion to family, her legacy echoes across five generations.

She is preceded in death by her husband Louis Shaneyfelt (2020) and fifth son Ronald Shaneyfelt (1986).

Whether it was enjoying the company of family and friends, or the occasional visit to the local casino; she remained an avid Christian, devoted wife, mother and friend. We celebrate her life and remind ourselves that this is never goodbye, but simply her opportunity to take her place amongst family and friends that have passed before her. For those left behind we will cherish the laughs and smiles we shared together in our hearts and memories forever.

Graveside Services will be held at 1pm, Thursday, September 29, 2022 at Lakeshore Cemetery.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis is honored to serve the family of Lula Shaneyfelt.

ANTHONY (TONY) TRAPANI III

APRIL 19, 1964 – SEPTEMBER 19, 2022
BAY ST. LOUIS, MS

“TONY TRAPANI’S PERSONALITY WAS BIGGER THAN LIFE”

His brothers say he was their mother’s favorite. As the oldest of three boys, they were all a source of pride and joy for her. And when Anthony (Tony) Trapani III passed away at the young age of 58, it was the same day his mother had passed 19 years ago.

Tony was a one-of-a-kind personality. When he was in the room everything changed. He lived life to the fullest always stepping just a little bit over the edge. He worked hard and he played hard, never giving up an opportunity to get out on the Gulf for exploring, fishing and just having fun. While out exploring, he would find treasures of driftwood, hauling back what most would see as a worthless piece of wood. To him, it was a canvas for a treasured work of art. The art he created now hangs splendidly in the main dining room of his home away from home, Trapani’s Eatery.

He and his business partner Jolynne Trapani opened Trapani’s Eatery on the Beach in the Bay in 1994, and they have been serving up the best Coast cuisine and hospitality for nearly three decades facing one disaster after another, determined to keep the restaurant open under all circumstances. After Katrina, they opened a temporary restaurant in March 2006 on Highway 90 and in an unexpected effort to bring a bit of island flair to the Highway, Tony planted a palm tree right at the entrance. It would be years before they could build back on the beach, but through patience and determination to “never leave the Bay” they reopened the Beachfront restaurant in 2012. They would often say, we do what we do for the love of our children, Grace, and Joseph.

A graduate of St Stanislaus in 1982, and from Southeastern Louisiana in 1993 with a communications degree, Tony was happiest when he was in the kitchen. If there was a food competition, he was a sure bet to bring home the first-place trophy. His passion for food as a natural born chef, led him to start the restaurant, now the oldest seafood restaurant on the Coast.

Tony believed his employees were his most important asset. He would often say, “you are nothing without your employees.” He loved his employees, and his employees loved him. Some, like Shawn Hess, have been with Trapani’s for more than 20 years.

Tony never met a customer he didn’t love often sitting down at their table offering advice on what to order. And his customers came from far and wide to have their fill of Panced Trout Eatery, Fried Green Tomatoes with Sautéed Crabmeat and Hollandaise, Fried Eggplant with their famous red gravy and best chargrilled oysters on the Coast. Everyone has a Trapani’s favorite and Tony was right at the center of the dining experience. Even Jimmy Buffet, who lists Trapani’s as one of his top ten favorites, can’t stay away for long.

Tony was a family man. This is where he held his greatest joy, taking his children Grace and Joseph out on the Bay with their friends and his family to teach them the ways of coastal living. Because of his love for wildlife and the water, they say they had the most incredible childhood. He was a true conservationist concerned with protecting the waters of the Gulf and serving as one of the first presidents of the area’s Coastal Conservation Association (CCA). He was an entertainer either through his practical jokes, storytelling or stepping up to take the mic while a local band played at the Blue Marlin Bar upstairs. His personality was bigger than life.

He is preceded in death by his beloved parents Carol Jean Carver Trapani and Anthony Trapani Jr. He leaves behind his partner Marsha Vargas, his children Grace Camille Trapani and Anthony Joseph Trapani IV, mother of his children and co-founder of Trapani’s Jolynne Trapani, his brothers Christopher Frank Trapani (Becky, Christopher, Jenna, Carol Ann, William), and Cary Trapani (Casey, Andrew, Maddie), his best friend and first cousin David Kenny (Cindy), and many nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Tony’s love for the Bay is unmatched. An icon of the tourism industry, he left his mark on the heart and soul of all he met and loved, and he put the Bay on the map as a sought-after tourism attraction for the Coast.

Arrangements are being made by Edmond Fahey Funeral Home. In lieu of flowers, the family asks for donations to be made in his memory to the Coastal Conservation Association - Bay Chapter, P. O. Box 3916, Bay St. Louis, MS 39521. Visitation is at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church on Wednesday, September 28th from 10am – 1pm. The Christian mass will be at 1pm followed by the burial at Gulf Coast Memorial Cemetery on Longfellow Drive. Honoring his memory, Trapani’s will be closed on Tuesday, September 27th and Wednesday, September 28th.

Edmond Fahey is honored to serve the family of Anthony (Tony) Trapani III

Rocket Lab prepares to blast off in Mississippi

SEA COAST ECHO

U.S.-based Rocket Lab is locating an engine test facility for its new large rocket Neutron at NASA’s Stennis Space Center in Hancock County, making a significant capital investment and creating dozens of new jobs in Hancock County.

Rocket Lab is the launcher of Electron, the second most-frequently flown U.S. rocket, and is developing Neutron, its much larger, reusable rocket, to carry out national security missions and deliver multiple satellites to space. Rocket Lab has selected Stennis Space Center as the site of the test and development complex for Archimedes, its Neutron rocket engines.

The Archimedes Test Complex will be located within the A-3 Test Complex at Stennis Space Center and will include exclusive the use and development of existing industrial NASA infrastructure and the center’s A-3 Test Stand. Rocket Lab expects to begin construction of the Neutron Test Complex in the near future.

The Mississippi Development Authority is providing assistance for site development and equipment relocation and installation. Hancock County and Stennis Space Center also are assisting with the project.

Founded in 2006, Rocket Lab is an end-to-end space company with an established track record of mission success. Since its first orbital launch in January 2018, Rocket Lab’s Electron launch vehicle and has delivered 150 satellites to orbit for private- and public-sector organizations, enabling operations in national security, scientific research, space debris mitigation, Earth observation, climate monitoring and communications. Building on the achievements of Electron, Rocket Lab’s next-generation launch vehicle Neutron is designed for constellation deployment, cargo resupply and interplanetary missions. Rocket Lab also develops mission-ready spacecraft and satellite subsystems.

Finding Our Mission in Life

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

What is your mission in life? What is the ultimate direction in which you long for your life to go?

Victor Frankl, who survived a German prisoner of war camp and became a renowned writer, once said that every person needs a sufficient “why”. He said that we can survive almost any “how” if there is an adequate “why”. This can become the ultimate challenge of life. Finding your “why” can be your most valuable work.

The “why” of life can also be understood as your mission. A mission is not a detailed plan. It may not be something that is totally worked out in the beginning. It may require long hours and even years of planning in order to be understood. This can stretch over a lengthy period of time. It may become a life-long effort. It is, however, the ultimate goal of a meaningful life. The manner in which it is approached, and the attention it is given, can become the great quest of a life well lived. It is a journey which can be challenging, but which offers meaning and purpose to life.

There is an important spiritual aspect to discovering the mission of life. The great 20th Century theologian, Paul Tillich, wrote about “the courage to be”. He believed that an important goal in life, perhaps the most important, was that of discerning and living into the essence of our being. Having identified that, it is crucial to strive for, and make application to, that essence for which we live, the goals which we set, and the work which employs us. This is the heart of the human endeavor. It is a life-long process which, when taken seriously, can have a transforming impact upon our lives. Rather than being a burden, this is a life-affirming and joyous activity.

Some questions are appropriate as we embark on such an effort. Examples include:

- What are our fundamental values for life?
- What is required in to keep these values central to our experience?
- What resources do we need?
- How might strategies be formulated to achieve our goals?
- What kind of difference can it make in life?

Others are likely to emerge along the way. The key is to apply serious, reflective, and prayerful thinking so that the process may evolve to its greatest potential.

We grow as human beings as we consider these questions, and as we embrace the importance of seeking the mission of life. We also discover that we will grow as we examine our lives in such an intentional way. This is a process of renewal which leads us to important places of peace, satisfaction, and a greater awareness of ourselves.

Reflection on, and working toward, a clear mission in life can be a rewarding process at any stage. What is your mission?

NOTICED IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION WILL HOLD A SPECIAL PUBLIC HEARING ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 17TH, 2022 AT 6:00 P.M. TO CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING: THIS IS ALSO NOTIFICATION THAT THE PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION IS A RECOMMENDING COMMISSION ONLY. THE WAVELAND BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN WILL CONSIDER FINAL APPROVAL OF THE PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1ST, 2022 AT 6:30 PM.
Note: All Meetings are being held in-person in the Mayor and Board of Aldermen Board Room located on the 1st Floor of City Hall, 301 Coleman Avenue, Waveland, MS 39676.
William McGee, owner of the property commonly known as 127 Aiken Rd. parcel #161B-2-01-006-001, has made an application for a Rear-Yard Variance of five (5) feet which would result in twenty (20) feet rear-yard setback in order to construct a new single-family residence.
Cindi Poindexter, owner of the property commonly known as 105 Venus St. parcel #162A-0-03-122-000, has made an application for a conditional use in order to have an accessory structure over 500 square feet. The proposed accessory structure will be 900 square feet used for storage.

Roger & Donna Estopinal, owners of the property commonly known as 534 Meadow Ln., parcel # 161D-0-02-022-000, along with Jim Breland, owner of the property commonly known as 530 Meadow Ln., parcel # 161D-0-02-021-000, have made an application for variances in order to decrease Mr. Breland's property width and increase the property width for Mr. & Mrs. Estopinal. Mr. Breland's property would decrease by nineteen (19) feet in lot frontage, resulting in eight-one (81) feet. Mr. & Mrs. Estopinal would increase their property's frontage by nineteen (19) feet which would result in sixty-nine (69) feet. Mr. Breland would not need a variance on property square footage due to the size. Mr. & Mrs. Estopinal require an extra variance because the frontage increase is not enough to reach the minimum 12,000 square feet as stated in Ordinance #349.

Suicide Prevention Month Ends, But Awareness Should Last All Year Long

BY Mississippi
Department of Mental Health (DMH)
Executive Director
Wendy Bailey

The month of September is National Suicide Prevention Month, a time to recognize the warning signs and symptoms that indicate someone may be struggling with suicidal thoughts, and a time to spread the message of hope that things can and do get better and no one should hesitate to speak up and seek help for themselves or others they love.

We join other states and mental health advocates and providers in recognizing this message each September, but it’s vital that we don’t stop sharing it when the month ends. The message of National Suicide Prevention Month is one that everyone needs to hear and take to heart, no matter what time of year it is - suicidal thoughts can affect anyone, regardless of age, gender, or your background, but services are available to provide the hope and the help you may need.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has reported that in 2020, nearly 46,000 Americans died by suicide. Of those, 410 were our fellow Mississippians. In Mississippi, suicide is the third leading cause of death for people ages 10-24. Many of our friends, family members, and neighbors who died by suicide were likely struggling with mental health issues that could have been treated. Issues like anxiety and depression can become so overwhelming that they affect our everyday lives. Illnesses like bipolar disorder or schizophrenia can affect someone’s thinking, feeling, and perception. Suicidal thoughts may be a symptom of these struggles and illnesses, but like other symptoms, they can be treated.

The first step towards getting treatment is simply by speaking up, whether that means asking for help yourself or asking a loved one if they need help. It can be a difficult conversation to have, but normalizing these topics can let people know that it’s OK to seek help. By asking questions and simply checking in with our friends and families, we can avoid tragedy. If you feel like you need to seek help yourself, there

Rocks outlast Tigers 22-16 for Crab Trap

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws (2-3) outlasted cross-town rival Bay High for a 22-16 victory to reclaim the Crab Trap Trophy ‘between the walls’ Friday night. The victory over the Tigers (2-3) also improved the Rocks’ lead in the series to 35-20.

Both teams came into the game having lost the previous week and were looking for redemption.

The Rocks started the game on offense and drove just inside Tiger territory before having to punt away.

The Tigers took over on their 20 yard line after the touchback.

The Rocks appeared to have forced a punt but were flagged for roughing the punter which gave the Tigers the ball near midfield.

Eventually, the Rock defense forced the punt which was downed inside the Rock 20 yard line.

SSC had three consecutive carries of 16, 6, and 10 yards by Chandler Chapman that gave them a little breathing room before Hudson Osborne connected with Ethan Galloway for a 55-yard scoring aerial with 4:21 left in the first quarter. Evan Noel converted the PAT for a 7-0 for SSC.

The Tigers answered back quickly on the ensuing possession with four consecutive carries by Jalen Antoine of 10, 2, 2, and 1 yard before Xander Ladner found Antoine for a 59-yard scoring toss with 1:13 left in the first quarter. The PAT by Brennan Acosta was good knotting the score at 7-7.

After the touchback, Chapman ripped off a 76-yard run down to the Tiger four-yard line. Two plays later, Chapman scored from three yards out with :06 left in the first quarter. Noel’s PAT made the score 14-7 in favor of the Rocks.

Each team traded possessions twice before the scoreboard changed numbers. Bay High’s Vincent Lan intercepted a Rock pass at the Tiger 20 yard line and returned it 80 yards for a touchdown with 3:15 left in the first half. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 14-13.

After the ensuing kick, SSC took over at their own 40 and pushed the ball down to the Tiger 20 yard line. With no time on the clock, Noel attempted a 37-yard field goal for SSC which was blocked by Alex Harris leaving the score 14-13 at intermission.

The Tigers opened the second half with a 15-play drive down to the Rock 23-yard line where Avery Harris attempted a 40-yard field that fell short with 6:02 left in the third quarter.

The Tigers held firm on defense with two stellar rushes off the edge by Tysen Hawkins forcing a Rock punt.

Bay High put together a 10-play drive that culminated with a 25-yard field goal by Acosta with 10:06 left in regulation that put the Tigers up 16-14.

The teams traded possessions twice before SSC took over at their own 27 yard line.

Chapman put together five consecutive runs of 31, 10, 2, 4, and 6 yards to move the ball to the Tiger 20 yard line. Henry Nunmaker scored on a 20-yard run for SSC with 2:43 left to play. Osborne found Jackson Dicerbo for the two-point conversion to make the score 22-16.

The Tigers attempted four straight passes but came up empty and the Rocks took over on downs at the Tiger 20 yard line. The Rocks kept the ball on the ground with Chandler running into the heart of the Tiger defense as time expired.

Bay High head coach Jeremy Turcotte commented, “My hat is tipped to SSC for bowing up when they needed to. We had miscues in the red zone and did not finish drives. That will stall an offense every time. Our defense played well enough for us to win but we had a difficult time finishing drives.”

The Tigers were led on offense by Jalen Antoine who rushed for 68 yards on 22 carries and caught 4 passes for 84 yards and a touchdown. Ladner was 10-for-27 for 132 yards and a touchdown. Defensive stats were not available for the Tigers.

SSC head coach Nate Encrapera stated, “We have things that still need to be ironed out such as penalties. We try to play with super effort and sometimes things happen but we have to get better at putting ourselves in a more advantageous situation. We did not play a clean game and this must be remedied. Our mental focus in the game was where it needed to be and our body language stayed better throughout the game. We have to continue with this mindset to be successful in division play which begins soon.”

The Rocks were led on offense by Chapman who rushed for 252 yards and a touchdown on 26 carries. On defense, SSC was paced by Jacob Bradford with 12 tackles including 6 tackles loss while Bruno Dall added 10 stops with 7 solos. Chesley Rhodes added 8 tackles with 4 aces.

Bay High head coach Logan Lockard commented, “We are still alive for a postseason berth but we have to finish strong. Our defensive performance keyed our

Greyhounds ruffle Hawks’ feathers 42-7

BY DWAYNE BREMER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Hancock Hawks on Friday played an inspired first half against top ranked Ocean Springs, but the Greyhounds pulled away in the second half en route to a 42-7 victory at Brett Favre Field.

“I thought we played with a lot of energy all evening,” Hawks Head Coach Neil Lollar said. “But to be at a team of Ocean Springs’ calibre, we needed to take advantage of our opportunities.”

The first half was a defensive battle with neither team scoring until Bray Hubbard scored on a five-yard run for the Greyhounds late in the second quarter.

The Hawks stopped the Greyhounds on fourth down three times in the half. Xavier Gani-er and Ryder Island had bug sacks to stop two drives and Jasper Talley registered a tackle for a loss to stop another.

The third quarter,

however, was dominated by Ocean Springs.

Hubbard opened the second half with a 70-yard touchdown run.

The Hawks quickly moved into the red zone thanks to a 40-yard kickoff return by Destin Coleman and a 26 yard run by Zach Gullung.

The Greyhounds then made the play of the game when a tipped pass was intercepted and returned 85-yards for a score. The Greyhounds added to their lead later in the third when Will Smith scored on a 16-yard run.

The Hawks got on the board in the fourth quarter when Gullung scored on a one-yard run. The score was set up by an 89-yard completion from Dylan Moran to Todd Dedeaux.

The Greyhounds added another touchdown run by Hubbard with just over a minute to play. The final score was 42-7.

The Hawks (3-2) travel to St. Martin next Friday.

ried, a father, living and working in Seattle. Sadly, we’ve only seen each other once in almost 30 years! Luckily my old friend was in town this summer. He booked a trip weeks ago, and we were finally gonna “catch up”.

Travis, his brother Tyler and Nephew Julien were along for the ride. Travis and I went immediately to reminiscing about the good old days. We talked the entire ride, about Who had seen old friends and classmates. It was a long ride to where we were gonna fish, but it felt like it went by in seconds.

Our conversation was completely shut down when we arrived at the fishing grounds. The redfish ruined our trip down memory lane, they were everywhere! Young Julien was running wild trying to help Travis and Tyler bring in the redfish. For 40 minutes, we had redfish on the lines almost every cast. It was an absolute madhouse. They had a group of over 20 family members to feed, and I’m happy to say these boys got themselves some groceries!

The most incredible thing that happened was when I hooked a small rat red. As I was bringing it to the boat, I could see a larger red following it. Tyler put his pole down to net the fish. His bait was barely in the water. As my fish went into the net, his pole launched off the boat. I told him not to worry, that the cork would likely pop up. Sure enough, the cork swam by the boat. We snagged his line, got our pole back, and got the keeper redfish that was still attached to it!

After they red fish chaos ended, we headed out to look for triple tail. We must’ve rode for an hour, and never saw a fish. Travis and I could care less. They had a box full of Fish, and we got to talk the entire time. It was a near perfect day, and like all the good ones, it ended way too soon. I guess I’ll see my Old buddy Travis next time, on our next fishing trip “Class Reunion”...

is a new resource that is making that easier than ever.

This summer, the nationwide launch of 988 nationwide provided a new, easy-to-reach number for the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline. The Lifeline connects callers with trained crisis counselors who can help people experiencing thoughts of suicide, mental health or substance use crisis, or any other kind of emotional distress. You can call 988 at any time to reach help for yourself or for someone else who may need crisis support.

The introduction of 988 is the first step of a transformed crisis care system that ultimately envisions anyone in a mental health crisis having someone to call, someone to respond to them, and a safe place to go for crisis care. This transformation will take time, it will take the efforts of national, state, and local partners, and it will take a willingness to talk about difficult topics like suicide and mental health any time that discussion - no matter what time of year it is - is needed.

As we enter October and leave September and National Suicide Prevention Month behind us, know that this recognition is one that is needed all year long. If you are having thoughts of harming yourself, do not hesitate to call 988 today, and for more information about services near you, call the Helpline at 1-877-210-8513 or visit the web site at www.mentalhealthms.com.
